Every member of the cast of players which will give "The Climax" at the Norway Opera House Oct. 19th, is not only an actor, but also a piano player, singer and especially an educated musician. Mr. Joe Weber, the producer, has had a great deal of difficulty in securing players who combine these qualifications. It is said to have taken over 1500 players before the proper material could be secured.

The Climax.

Weber's charming melody drama, "The Climax," by Edward Locke, with incidental music by Joseph Carl Breil, which is announced as the attraction at the Norway Opera House, Thursday evening, Oct. 19th.
"The Climax" is said to be one of the greatest plays of the century, abounding with delicious humor, absorbing romance and exquisite melodies which are entwined throughout the plot. The case of McCrellis vs. Tibbets is a line case which was tried at the March term and which took two days for trial and the jury disagreed. The case is set down for trial on Friday.

There is not a great deal of business to be brought into court this term from the continued Civil Docket and there are no special cases of importance along this line to come during this term. In the Criminal Docket there is considerable to be taken up.

The principal case is that of Ignazio Albanese of Rumford, who goes by the name of "Joe Bill." At the May term of court at Rumford there was a contest, he desiring a hearing at the time and his wife wishing it postponed and the hearings were continued to this term. This was agreed upon just before the noon recess and at the opening of the afternoon session "Joe Bill" came into court and surrendered himself to the officers, telling them he had killed his wife, having shot her, and she lived only about two hours after he shot her.

Peter Ayotte of Rumford, Frank Potter of Mexico, Scott Truman of Norway and Fred G. Newton of Dixfield are also held for trial charged with criminal assault.

VOLUME XLII.

Norway Municipal Court.
WM. F. JONES, JUDGE.
L. L. Mason of Portland was arrested Tuesday by Deputy Frank P. Hoyt for running his automobile on the Bear Pond road in Waterford, which had been closed to automobile travel. He was brought into court and fined $10. He was paid and was discharged.

An Excavation.
One day first of the week while Hiram Wiles was busy engaged in digging the trench to lay the water pipe for the sewer, which he is putting in for John Sampson from his house to the brook, he made a find which knowing the history makes it all the more interesting.

He was digging down the sewer between the Old Fellow Block and the Opera House when he noticed something shining, picking it up found it to be a bundle of forks, then looking around saw another bundle, and the third bundle had been taken up in the shovel and scattered. When gathered together there were one dozen and a half A. No. 1 Rogers forks all in good condition, only slightly soiled.

The probable history of these forks is this. Seventeen years ago last May occurred the big fire which destroyed those buildings and did so much damage. V. W. Hills was located in the Opera House and was in the jewelry business at the time. At the time of the fire the store to the opposite side carried out of the store the debris and was put in the driveway among rubbish for filling.

V. W. Hills was called upon after finding them and just as he laid claim to the silverware, and told Mr. Wiles to bring them to the store. Monday evening he brought them in and Hills told him to call around the next day and get his forks, that he would polish them up a little.

Wednesday forenoon another half dozen forks were found and now Mr. Wiles is the possessor of a full two dozen silver forks, Rogers A. No. 1, that have been tested.

October Meeting of the Norway-Waterford Dairy Testing Assn.
The October meeting of the Norway-Waterford Dairy Testing Association was held at South Waterford at Bear Mt. Grange hall, Wednesday, Oct. 11th.

Meeting was called to order by President V. E. Dunn at 1:50 p. m. Records of previous meeting were read by secretary, C. S. Hamlin. On account of the busy season during the month of September there was no meeting for that month.

Dairy Tester H. M. Look gave his report for the month of August as follows: The total number of pounds of milk produced, 3,980; pounds of fat produced, 173.8; cost of feed on day of test for the total association, $25.26; number of cows in test, 276; number producing milk, 238; number dry, 38.

Highest producing cow in fat on day of test belonged to S. H. and W. W. Abbott; cow No. 6 producing 1.69 pounds; L. E. McIntire and Son, 2.1 best, 1.52 pounds; E. K. Kilgore, 3d best, 1.51 pounds.

Average cost of pound of fat, .146; average cost of pound of milk, .019; average test, 4.4; highest producing cow in milk, L. E. McIntire's, producing in one day, 44.6; highest producing herd belonged to M. M. Hamlin, producing 255 pounds per cow per day.

E. C. Richardson of Fryeburg, a breeder of pure bred Jerseys, was called upon and in part he said that he sincerely believed that every dairyman should keep a daily record of his herd and their production so as to learn what each and every cow was doing.

Through Fryeburg they were not thought just what you would term a dairy district so they did not have a Dairy Testing Association, wished that they were one.

V. W. Hills was called upon, told of his practice, his regularity in milking, told about his son being anxious to see just what each cow was giving. He also advocated better attendance on the part of each member at its meetings.

Secretary C. S. Hamlin said that he had never kept a dairy record of his cows but after listening to brother Farrington's talk had made up his mind that he should keep a dairy record of his cows' production.

President V. E. Dunn said that when a man kept a schedule in his stable it proved that he was taking interest in his work, and in all lines of business a man's interest must be centered there in order to meet success.

H. C. Black, Dairy Inspector, gave a talk on dairying.

Brother M. M. Hamlin said that he was pleased to be with the members of the association and that he was not present his mind was upon the meeting the same as though he had been there, said that the problem of the farmer is to meet here among all the farmers and to be very versatile so as to be ready to meet all the problems.

Brother Hamlin, who was the owner of the highest producing herd in August, was called upon to tell all about his methods. In reply he said that he wished that he could tell them but said that there was nothing new about it. Said that they were glad to see official Tester Look as their yield was greater the day of Mr. Look's presence.

Mr. Farrington was given a chance to talk again in relation to his Jersey herd, having such good size and form and said that he laid great stress on feeding the cows dry for their dry period so as to get good, large calves, fed the calves well during their younger days, hence the good record.

The next meeting will be held at the Norway Grange hall the second Wednesday in November. The president has kindly asked brothers Fred G. Dunn and Benjamin Tucker to report on herd records.

Upon suggestion of the official Tester it was decided that the secretary correspond with President Robert J. Aley of the University of Maine for his presence at the meeting in November.

Twenty five were present and it was pronounced a very successful meeting.

Fryeburg Fair.
On account of the heavy rain of Wednesday, the Fryeburg Fair was set ahead one day.
The weather Thursday was fair but cold and windy. There was a very large crowd in attendance and it was also a very orderly one and all seemed to enjoy their annual outing.
The early killing frost spoiled many a garden exhibit, but despite this, the hall was well filled with fruit and vegetables, a surprisingly fine show.
One of the special features was the interest taken by the various granges.
Four granges have large and beautiful exhibits—the Mount Etna of West Baldwin, the Fryeburg, the Pequawket of North Conway and the Eagle of North Chatham.
The arrangement of the Grange exhibits in both halls was especially good and called forth many admiring comments.
These Grange exhibits add a great deal to the attractiveness of the fair, and the association does well to give these presentations to encourage the continuance of these exhibits.
There is a larger cattle exhibit than for many years and the show of thoroughbred stock was a surprise to many who had no idea of the amount of registered stock owned in the jurisdiction of the society.
The show of oxen was the finest for years. Four towns were entered, Chatham, Denmark, Hiram and Brownfield.
Draft horses were shown by J. W.
Hall of Lovell; C. V. Hattford, of Hiram; N. F. Fox of Lovell; Alvin Head of Chatham.
Bakery row was unusually well filled this year, and the various attractions furnished sport for the crowd which always loves a good "Midway." Chandler's band headed the parade of prize winning stock that extended the thirds of the way around the track.
This was run off at 1:30 and the races that followed were finished in good season.

Sweaters for Our Soldiers.
The adoption by the United States army of that most sensible but also most informal article of dress, the sweater, shows a noteworthy change in military tailoring since the old "tuss and feathers" days. As the Springfield Republican points out military dress was formerly intended to impress the eye rather than to keep the soldier warm and comfortable. His clothes were stiff, heavy and burdensome. The picture which troops would present on the parade ground was constantly kept in mind, rather than their comfort on the march or on the battlefield. Our military authorities have taken the lead in the introduction of a new order of things in considering the personal comfort and physical well-being of the soldier. His clothing is now adapted to the climate in which he serves and to his duties in which he is employed. He has lost something in picturesque quality, but his efficiency as a fighting unit has been increased.
Civil authorities have been more diffident about attempting reforms along the same line, but the example of the military will have its effect in course of time.—[Brookton Enterprise.

The Automobile Law.
What Maine Motor-Car Owners Must Do
to Avoid Legal Trouble.
Notwithstanding the publicity given the new automobile law, which goes into effect Dec. 31, there is much ignorance on the part of the motor-car owners, over what they are expected to do to avoid trouble with the officers.
The law was passed by the last Legislature and is known as Chapter 102 of the Laws of 1911.
Section 8 provides that:
All motor vehicles shall be registered by the owner or person in control thereof in accordance with the provisions of this act. Application for such registration may be made by mail or otherwise to the secretary of state upon blanks prepared under his authority. The application shall, in addition to such other particulars as may be required by this act, contain a statement of the name, place of residence and address of the applicant, with a brief description of the motor vehicle, including the name of the maker, the number if any, affixed by the maker, the character of the motive power and the amount of such power, stated in horse-power and with such application shall be deposited an annual registration fee of:

Five dollars for automobiles (used for conveyance of persons, for hire, pleasure or business) of twenty horse-power and under.
Ten dollars for automobiles (used for conveyance of persons, for hire, pleasure or business) between twenty horsepower and including thirty-five horsepower.
Fifteen dollars for automobiles (used for conveyance of persons, for hire, pleasure or business) over thirty-five horse-power.
Ten dollars for motor trucks or automobiles (used for commercial purposes).
Three dollars for motor cycles (used for pleasure or business).
Ten dollars for traction engines or log haulers (used for commercial purposes).

The above horse power shall be based on the "A-L-A-M" standard, so-called.
Application for registration, applied for by an owner of an automobile, a resident of this State, not including motor cycle, log hauler or traction engine, during the periods between the first day of October and ending December 31st in any year after nineteen hundred and eleven, one-half of the registration fee.
The secretary of state upon granting the application shall register in a book or upon suitable index cards to be kept for the purpose, the motor vehicle described in the application, giving to the owner of such motor vehicle a distinguishing number or other mark which shall thereupon issue to the applicant a certificate of registration, said certificate shall contain the name, place of residence and address of the applicant, and the registered number or mark shall be prescribed in the manner in which said number or mark shall be inscribed or displayed on the motor vehicle and shall be in such form as the secretary may determine.

The secretary of state shall also furnish the applicant two enamel iron plates, containing the word "Maine" to be not less than one inch in height and the number of the registration in Arabic numerals not less than four inches in height. The number plates must be attached to the front and rear of automobiles, auto trucks and traction engines. Motor cycles will be provided with a registration seal or other distinguishing mark as may be determined by the secretary of state. The number of motor cycles must be so placed as to be always plainly visible.
A proper record of all applications for registration and of all certificates issued shall be open to inspection of any person during reasonable hours. The certificates of registration shall always be carried on the person or in some easily accessible place in or about the motor vehicle. Upon the sale of any motor vehicle, registration shall expire and the vendor shall immediately return the certificate of registration to the secretary of state, with notice of sale and the name, place and residence and address of the vendee. Registration plates, seal, or other distinguishing mark for automobiles, motor cycles and traction engines shall be furnished free, from the office of the secretary of state.
A motor cycle that has been registered in accordance with this section, may be operated by the owner of a motor cycle without a license and the certificate of registration shall be evidence of the right to operate. To replace lost or mutilated plates, seventy-five cents each.
The express charge for delivery of registration plates to be paid for by the recipient.

Manufacturers, dealers and owners shall notify the secretary of state when they sell or transfer an automobile, giving the name and address of the new owner.
All registrations expire on Dec. 31st of each year and all cars must be registered again before they can be operated without liability of prosecution under this act.
A person who disposes of his car and buys a new one can register the new car for $2, providing the horse power is the same as in the old car; if it is greater, he must pay $2 plus the difference. Any person 18 years old can get an operating license for $2. Any person getting a license must write his name on the margin of the license which shall be null and void unless having such signature.
Non-residents without getting a license in this State can operate cars in this State not exceeding 30 days providing they are registered in some other state.
A violation of any of the above sections shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $15 or by imprisonment not exceeding 10 days.
Any unlicensed person can run a car
if accompanied by a licensed operator, preparatory to becoming familiar with the car and taking out a license.
Any person intoxicated or in any way operating a car recklessly or in excess of the speed limits shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $50 or by imprisonment for a term of three months or by both fine and imprisonment. A second conviction doubles the penalty. His license shall be revoked.
All moneys received under this act are devoted to the improvement of State highways under direction of the highway commissioner.

B. G. McIntire,
Chairman of State Board of Assessors.
Governor Plaiside has announced the appointment of Bertrand G. McIntire of East Waterford as chairman of the State Board of Assessors to succeed Hon.
Obadiah Gardner of Rockland, who has resigned to accept an appointment as United States senator.
Mr. McIntire is a prominent livestock and lumber dealer in Oxford county and it was only with great difficulty that Governor Plaiside was able to induce him to accept the nomination. His name was mentioned in connection with the appointment at the time that Mr. Gardner was named, but it was understood then that he would not accept under any conditions.
Mr. McIntire is 46 years old and married. He was born in Norway and educated in the common schools of that town and at Bridgton Academy. He has served upon town, county and State Democratic committees and has always been a Democrat. He has held the office of superintendent of schools of Waterford, represented the Waterford class in Gov. House in 1903, and was sheriff of Oxford county from 1905 to 1907. He came within a few votes of re-election in 1910, the election being so close that it required a decision from the supreme court to settle it.

The human race is divided into two classes—those who go ahead and do something and those who sit still and laurel. "Why wasn't it done the other way?"—Holmes.

BAD PAINT
There are paints so bad as $1.00 a gallon.
We haven't any so bad as that; there is no good reason for making any so bad as that; there is no good reason for making bad paint at all.
Devote cost less than those paints; it is strange indeed that anyone sells those paints; it is stranger yet anyone buys them.
They take more gallons, cost more money, and don't wear as long.

It does not pay to advertise, say some merchants who have done little of it, and that without keeping it up. The incident of the boy and the pump illustrates the matter very well. The boy was sent after a pail of water. He poured in the priming water, and pumped out as much as he poured in. Then he

SOUTH WOODSTOCK.

Protection of Property. The propriety of having a Board of Trade in town is being considered and due attention should be given this move. So too, it might be proper during the agitation of this venture for the protection of our residents against thievery.

It was only a few nights of the past that one of our citizens was awakened, it being near the propitious hour when the ghost was wont to show up in Denmark, by the sharp squawking of captured fowl. It was their last protest, their squalls were soon over. Gliding footsteps were heard on the walk and off went the biddies down the beaten path—bagg.

On another occasion a gentleman was under concern about his woodpile, a bright thought struck him, he sifted flour along the walk in his woodhouse and to behold in the morning he had some nice prints of the monkey's foot. These are minor incidents, and the gentry stalk about as easy and unconcerned as though they were pulling the latch string to one of the doors of heaven. Away goes apples, wood, lumber or most any of the material things of earth and the selections are always of quality.

Mrs. Edwin R. Berry.

Coia Josephine, wife of Edwin R. Berry died at her late home on Pioneer St. last Wednesday, Oct. 4.

Mrs. Berry had been in ill health a long time with consumption, but she had borne her illness with so much courage and fortitude that few realized that the end was so near.

She was the daughter of the late Harrison and Charlotte Newhall Childs and was forty-two years of age.

She early became a member of the M. E. Church here. After her marriage with Mr. Berry in 1884 they lived in Roxbury for a time, then they moved to Norway, where they lived several years. Here she became a member of the Congregational church.

To three years ago they moved here thinking that the higher elevation might be more beneficial to her health.

She leaves to mourn their loss a loving devoted husband a daughter, Alice and one brother, Chauncey N. Childs.

The services were attended by Rev. Z. W. Raymond and mixed quartet who sang Lead Kindly Light, one of her favorite hymns and Valley of Rest. The flowers were many and beautiful.

Willard G. Whittle.

The remains of Willard G. Whittle were brought here Wednesday from Lynn, Mass., and the funeral services were held at the M. E. Church, Thursday afternoon at 1:30. Rev. C. H. Young and Rev. Seth Benson officiated.

Mr. Young had known Mr. Whittle from a boy and his remarks were an eulogy.

Mr. Benson also had long known the deceased, and spoke more at large of his Christian character and the Christian hope. Two old familiar hymns were sung as duets.

He was highly respected, a man of integrity, a Christian man, an educated man. He was one of the early members of the M. E. Church of this place and on his removal to Massachusetts he became a member of the first M. E. Church of Lynn, Mass.

He was a successful school teacher and held several public and town offices. His home during the active part of his life was in Greenwood and there he was town treasurer for a number of years. He also represented the town in Legislature in 1893-4.

He was a member of West Paris lodge I. O. O. F., who attended his last service in a body and performed their funeral services.

Services were also held at his late home at 44 Arlington St., Lynn, Mass.

Mr. Whittle was born in Greenwood, Oct. 22, 1832 and was the son of Richard and Lida Poole Whittle. He married Mary Olive Shaw of Greenwood. Four children were given to them: Mrs. Etta W. House, Carrie I. and Minnie O. Whittle all of Lynn, Mass., and Gertrude D. Whittle, who died in young womanhood. Three brothers and two sisters survive him: Herman N. Whittle of Mechanic Falls, Olin P. Whittle of Lewiston, Walter R. Whittle, who lives in the state of Washington, Mrs. Lodi Bureham and Mrs. Abbie Whittle of Brockton, Mass., also one granddaughter, Gertrude W. House of Lynn, Mass.

Mr. Whittle was a farmer in Greenwood until a few years ago ill health made it seem best for him to retire from his labor and go to Lynn with his daughter. His last sickness was caused by catarrh of the bowels and he died Oct. 1.

Interment was in the family lot among the hills and mountains that he loved in Greenwood.

Forestalling Starvation.

James J. Hill puts his familiar doctrine bluntly when he declares that the American people will not take to raising the food they need until starvation drives them to it. But it is only the last of a long and extreme, and that is justifiable by its logic. Practical, hunger is the primal motive power, and the great army of humanity, from the stouthe age up, has always, in Napoleon's phrase, "Marched on its belly."

In our case the motive power will begin visibly to work long before starvation need be a terror to any able-bodied being. It is being organized by Mr. Hill already and by a large and powerful class to which he belongs. The railway men want big production and low prices because they sell transportation and profit by increased demand for it.

All employees of labor on a large scale want moderate prices for their products, because they are in condition precedent to moderate cost of living and to healthy and efficient labor. Thus it comes about that there is a practical movement, with money and brains behind it, to secure the tillage of more land and the better tillage of all land.

In countries like Germany, with a strong and centralized Government, or like Denmark, with a compact population of unusual intelligence, this movement is being guided and aided officially, though in Denmark voluntary association is by far the more effective agency.

In our own country more is being done than is widely known by the agricultural departments of the federal and state governments, while associated voluntary effort is advancing.

Only recently the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. gave an object lesson in breaking up an assembly of farmers in breaking up a stubborn and subsoil by dynamite discharged by a flash in a multitude of holes properly distributed, and doing in a short time, at relatively small expense, the costly, difficult and slow work of subsoil plowing and tile draining, and doing it, probably, far better.

When the pricking of appetite or the wise study of the relation of hunger and the food supply leads to the practical betterment of agriculture in this way, we need not be gloomy as to the future. [New York Times.]

Chickens and Ducks.

While the ordinary chick is growing and assuming a marketable age, the duckling is large and ready for the market in three months' time, from the time the eggs are put into the incubator, the ducklings are ready to eat. Four weeks' time is consumed in the period of incubation, but in nine weeks after they are hatched they may be taken to market. Ducklings are fast growers for several reasons. They are so greedy that they never lack for their meals; they are not nervous and easily frightened, and they are, as a rule, hardly any way. A duckling will weigh nearly the same age, and while they eat a great deal more while they are growing, they consume a large quantity of food that the chicks would not utilize and they also go around and seek a lot for themselves.

Weeds, greens of any kind, bugs, worms and all kinds of food will be eaten by them, which foods the chicks could not stand at all. Therefore those who have plenty of room do wisely by hatching and raising ducklings for market. They are not nearly the trouble that chicks are, and when one is crowded for time the ducklings will look out for themselves.

Plenty of Deer.

According to reports from the north and east sections of the state the deer hunting season, which began on Monday, should afford good sport. The season appears to be rather more plentiful than in several seasons past and, unlike the fall of 1910, there has been plenty of rain so that early hunters will not be bothered with the noise of dry leaves.

All summer deer have been reported in droves along the Penobscot and in the Moosehead country, and various other sections. The game wintered well, suffering neither from extreme cold nor deep snows. The deer season runs from Oct. 1 to Dec. 15.

Little is known of the moose, except that some guides and hunters report having seen a considerable number of young bulls with fairly good horns. The moose season begins Oct. 15 and runs to Dec. 1.

Ice Cream Cake.

Whites of five eggs, one-half cup fine granulated sugar, one-half cup butter, one cup sweet milk, one teaspoon cream of tartar, one-half teaspoon soda, three cups sifted flour. Color one-half of the mixture pink with strawberry color and flavor with vanilla. Flavor coloring and flavor with lemon. Bake slowly in a brick loaf tin, putting the white dough in first and the pink dough on top. Forty minutes is about (the right time). Try with a straw and take out as soon as done or the colors will not keep their color otherwise. Turn on a board and frost with a white icing. Color one-half of it pink. Spread the pink icing on the pink part and cover with a chocolate glaze made by melting one and one-half squares unsweetened chocolate. Do not stir, and when melted spread over frosting.

Rice and Cheese.

One teaspoonful of rice to four cups of hot water. Boil rapidly for 20 minutes. On bottom of buttered baking dish put layer of bread crumbs, then a thick layer of rice and garnish with cheese, another layer of rice and garnish with cheese. Finish with bread crumbs on top. Pour over all a cold mixture of one egg, one cup of milk, two tablespoons of melted butter, one tablespoonful salt, one-fourth teaspoonful dry mustard. Bake 20 minutes in a quick oven. This is delicious as a luncheon dish or as a substitute for potatoes with meat.

Mrs. Mary Gordon Walker, known among her many friends familiarly as Aunt Mary Walker, is suffering acutely except when under opiates from a fall, Thursday, Sept. 25th, causing a fractured or sprained hip. A trained nurse and members of her family and many friends are doing all in their power for her comfort.

George Charles, formerly a resident of Fryeburg Center and well known in this locality, but lately residing in Chatham, N. H., was fatally injured while in the woods. Stepping aside to avoid a falling tree, he tripped over some brush and fell forward directly under the tree which struck upon his back, fracturing the spine and injuring his chest. He was removed to a hospital in Portland and an expert was called, who after careful examination declared his case hopeless.

Good Luck, but, Oh!

A man who was noted for his sporting blood, returned from a duck hunting trip recently but didn't make very much talk about the trip on his return. His reticence was not because he didn't get a duck, for he was too good a shot to be so reticent. It is because he did get some ducks. With a friend he got up early one morning and went out to look for birds.

Spying a flock he crept noiselessly up to where he could get a better shot, using all the skill that is known to good duck hunters to avoid frightening the flock.

No one could be more skillful than he in this case for not a duck left the water. He went to the gun. Two birds fell back. The flock scattered, unable to understand any such explosion. He was reloading when a native appeared in view.

Them's my ducks, yer confounded idiot, angrily but a blamed city fellow could tell a tame duck when he saw it. He paid 60 cents apiece for his birds and thought he got off lucky.

A Professional Mayor.

Lakeport, N. J., is about to change its method of government by biring a "professional" mayor, who will have charge of all its municipal affairs, subject to the advice of a commission of five members. We heard the prophecy that this will be the general plan of city and even town governments at some time in the not very distant future.

When the demand is created for men qualified to perform all the functions of local government, men who do fit themselves just the same as the supervisory school district system has caused men to qualify themselves for superintendents. With the continuance of the present trend of specialization, it seems to us that one man government plan is sure to be realized. A much more economical and businesslike administration is likely to result from this plan than from present methods.

This is no reflection upon the character or ability of thousands of excellent men who accept local office under the present system. The fault is with the system not with the men. In many cases personal popularity determines the man's election irrespective of fitness, but in more cases a man is elected to administrative office by reason of his general business ability.

The latter is of course the best possible qualification under the present system, but it does not go far enough. Man's earthly reign is not of sufficient duration to permit him to master everything and it is an absolute fact that the man who specializes today is the man who makes good.

The small towns that could not afford to pay the salary of an expert could be grouped something after the idea of the present school system, which has done so well to elevate the efficiency of the public school system than all other legislation for many years combined.

When the people get thoroughly wise to the fact that it is not in the power of one man to master everything and that the man who can do one thing successfully is the winner, this plan of local government is likely to prevail.

Loss in Membership.

One of the principal subjects for discussion taken up at one of the sessions at Toronto, to which delegates from all quarters of the globe were in attendance, was the decrease in the membership of the church, which, it was revealed in the reports submitted, had taken place the world over during the last decade.

The western section comprising the Methodist churches in the United States, Canada and Japan reported during that period a loss in membership increase while in the eastern section, covering the churches in Great Britain, Ireland, France, South Africa, Australia and the mission field, showed an absolute loss in membership.

In the western section the increase in members in the decade ending 1891 was 1,281,209, while in the last decade it was 437,562, the latter increase being but 15 per cent, as contrasted with the former of 33 per cent. This according to Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll of New York, secretary of that section, was due to a decrease in earnestness.

"Our pulpits is not less desirous of reaching the unconverted in foreign lands," he said, "but it seems to be less burdened with anxiety for the unconverted in eastern lands. Our preaching is conforming somewhat to the spirit of the age, which carelessly says 'God will not condemn those who do the best they can.'"

Rev. Howard Sprague of the Methodist church of Canada urged widest extension of the church union work already advanced in Canada by the union and negotiations with the Presbyterian and Congregational churches of the dominion.
